Scores:

0: If you scored zero, well done. If you belong this category, I know I'm assuming you want either a teddy bear, an ice cream machine or both, but come on of course you want at very least an ice cream machine. Why wouldn't you?? Therefore I make no apologies.

1: If you scored 1 point, there are a few possibilities. Either, you plan on stealing someone's shoes and socks; you want a sledgehammer to warn others; or you want to own a teddy bear to freak people out. I think that's it. Whatever the case, not TOO bad.

2: I have to be honest, you do have at least some criminal tendencies. Maybe you plan on throwing an ice cream machine at someone or you're the kind to give selfies during a riot. It's not cool!

3: You sneezed on a prisoner's food out of fear, maybe? You're going to have a hard time in jail.

4: I know this seems like a low score, but something seriously wrong is going on here. Maybe you started a fight with someone over crisps, and boasted about that? Wow.

5 - 10: You're very clearly mentally ill.

11 - 20: You're extremely unwell. If you genuinely act like this, you will be the stuff of legends, no question.

21 - 30: You're no longer a mere legend, you will never be forgotten. Not possible.

31 - 40: If you honestly got this score, you belong in the toughest supermax prison there is. You. Are. Scary.

41 - 50: Not only are you scary to the average man on the street, even hardened prisoners are absolutely terrified of you. And rightly so.

51 - 60: What was your childhood like, exactly?

61 - 75: I've never heard of such a person before...

76: Wow, the maximum score. You must be pretty proud of yourself. If it costs the taxpayer hundreds of thousands of pounds a year, just so you can be kept away from others, doesn't that sound like something NOT be proud of, maybe? Just a thought. No scratch that, it's going to cost the taxpayer many millions. Your risk assessment form just goes on and on and on, it's completely unbelievable. You are also very seriously schizophrenic and have absolutely no hope whatsoever. There's more: No one could ever like you even in the maddest of circumstances, you're UNBELIEVABLY unreasonable and if that's not enough, you own a teddy bear!!!!!!
