

Simon: Well... I haven't reviewed random words in a while, so let's do it again! To spice things up, I have the Dominant Egg with me!

DE: I HATE random words!

Simon: Why?

DE: I just do!

Simon: Do you know what projection means?

DE: No...

Simon: It means you have a trait that you don't like in yourself and you accuse others of that same trait as a coping mechanism.

DE: Just because I can't STAND random words, doesn't mean I'm random!

Simon: Charlie, there have been rumours...

DE: NO I WASN'T INVENTED BY A RANDOM WORD GENERATOR!!!

Simon: Ok, fine. I agree, you weren't. Not at all. :)

DE: Thank you!!

Simon: No problem. In tenth place, we have...

Bury!

Simon: I'm sure if I was an undertaker (or a dog) I'd love this word, but I simply have no desire to bury anything at all. I'm sorry. However, if I ever go temporarily mad, steal a Rolex watch and then feel guilty, there is always the option of burying it. Not giving it back, I'd get into trouble.

DE: God I hate burying things, it's so random...

Simon: Oh not this again. This is a sensible ranking and I'm not having you spoiling things. And put that drink away! You're supposed to be in recovery!

DE: No!

Simon: Oh God...

9th Teach

Simon: I tried teaching guitar and it wasn't for me.

DE: Teach me how to take this pain away!

Simon: I just said, I can't...

DE: You must have taught SOMETHING in your guitar lessons??

Simon: You want me to teach you some chords?

DE: No...

Simon: I can you know... Lots of fun...

DE: I want you to make me feel better!

Simon: You have loving family. And I like you, too. You're a great egg. A little aggressive, but strangely fun to be around! Also, here's C major!

DE: You really think I'm a great egg?

Simon: Sure. You're a really great egg. :)

8th: Price

Simon: Is the price low or high?? I mean I like things when they don't cost much, but do I like the CONCEPT of price? I mean, not really. It's vaguely interesting I suppose, especially for businessmen but basically I'm indifferent to it...

DE: I like things that are really expensive...

Simon: Oh we all know about your hedonistic lifestyle. Well, your old lifestyle, you're a responsible egg now and that's why we all love you! Charlie Baldwin, family man and A-list actor!

DE: Thanks, man.

7th: Pipe

Simon: I'm struggling to think of a single time I've used a pipe, I certainly don't think they're important to me. I guess straws are a kind of pipe, but even then you don't really need them to drink. If you don't have a straw when drinking from one of those plastic bags you pierce, things will get messy, fair enough, but yeah, I'm not much of a pipe guy. Plumbers like them, though!

DE: I don't think I've ever heard anyone describe themselves as 'a pipe guy'...

Simon: Well there you go, that explains the low ranking!

DE: Oh yeah.

6th: Catch

Simon: Catching can be fun!

DE: Not for me. I have no hands...

Simon: Oh, I'm sorry. In that case, who cares about catching, really?

DE: It's too late. You said you like catching, already...

Simon: Look Charlie, you're really thin-skinned! I get turning to alcohol for having no parents, I mean for ASSUMING you have no parents, because that's all it is, an assumption, but people or eggs shouldn't turn to alcohol because they can't catch!

DE: But it looks so fun!!

Simon: Well, it's not as fun as all of the following...

5th: Contrast

Simon: Oh what would life be without contrasts?

DE: No, I disagree.

Simon: And why is that?

DE: I wish ALL my life could be a party, but it's filled with so much darkness...

Simon: You're a classic, hedonistic egg.

DE: You wouldn't want a lifetime of happiness?

Simon: Sure, it's just not going to happen, that's all.

DE: And why not?

Simon: Behaviours have consequences. For both of us, I mean.

DE: Ah.

4th: Rotation

Simon: If you spin a coin around very quickly you do get a strangely pleasing effect, if you try to make a coin spin for as long as possible, you've added a sense of challenge, too! The best kinds of rotations are on rollercoasters, though. Not bad!

DE: I'm not allowed on rollercoasters, I'm too small, the belts don't fit on me...

Simon: Oh not this complaining business again. You're a grown up, aren't you?

DE: I sure am...

Simon: Go for a meal. Ok, Ok, I want to go to Thorpe Park as well, I'd love to, but when I go there I'll be with other people, and I'll blame the visit on them.

DE: Ok, I don't want to go to Thorpe Park but when I do I won't be able to ride the rollercoasters after my friends tell me to.

Simon: That's a more normal thing to say, well done.

3rd: Abstract

Simon: Contrary to how I'm perceived, I do actually like working with abstract thought! Not so much LOGICAL thought, granted, I keep getting lost, but yeah you do need to think when writing! I'm sure I'll offend a lot of people when I say my writings could be even more offensive. I use my analytical brain and cut that stuff out.

DE: Wow.

Simon: Yeah, you really need a filter. Your behaviour seems like honesty, actually it's a lack of insight.

DE: Oh.

2nd: Quality

Simon: Who doesn't like things that are quality?

DE: But you can get things that are good and bad quality, it's like with 'price' having various amounts and you scored that very low.

Simon: Oops.

DE: I've got you there, haven't I?

Simon: Yes, I've been well and truly powned.

DE: You can just say you like things that are good quality...

Simon: No that's twisting things, the random word generator said 'quality' alone, not 'good quality'. As I said, I've been powned. Be grateful for the pown, it's a special feeling.

DE: Oh. I will then.

1st: Chew

Simon: I hate to sound like I have no life, but I REALLY like eating and it's one of my favourite things to do. I guess I like walking as well.

DE: I have no legs...

Simon: Yeah? Well, I'd much prefer to hover like you than to walk like me.

DE: Really?

Simon: Sure! Millions of people have been jealous of your ability since Back to the Future II, people were like 'we all want hoverboards now, please invent them!'

DE: Oh, it's nothing really. It's just like riding a skateboard but a few inches off the ground...

Simon: Well, we've all heard of adverts, what you've come up with is perhaps the world's first anti-advert!

DE: That sounds exciting, but it serves no purpose...

Simon: Sure it does. Think of all the companies you can bankrupt! You could anti-advertise pizza. You could appear on TV and say 'it tastes like cardboard'!

DE: Why?

Simon: Good point. You've just solved the puzzle of why there has been no anti-advert on TV. You're smart and you can hover, you have lots to be grateful for!

DE: Oh. Thank you.

Simon: Ok, all done! Charlie went a little bit weird on me at times, but I'm being 100% genuine when I say he's one of my all time favourite characters, and the odds of him existing in the first place are tiny! Does that make you feel like a special egg, Charlie? Because it should. Charlie, the special hovering egg.

DE: Yeah!

Simon: Good. And bye!
