

Hello! In this monologue I will be discussing haircuts! That's pretty much it, so let's go!!!

Buzz cut

The hair I have when it's just been cut. (After a few months it turns more into a kind of mop). What a great way to start! Me! Woo! Buzz cuts can be confused with people who try to bring you down when you're having a good time, only the latter are far worse obviously. On the plus side, if you already have depression you are immune to such people.

Bowl cut

Like having a bowl on your head! Who's idea was that, and how did he come up with it? The only time I had a bowl on my head, (when someone got fed up with me and poured their dessert on me) I hated it in fact. I certainly never recreated the scene. :S

Bob cut

A short(ish) haircut for women. According to Google, short hair on women was viewed as scandalous in the old days. Oh, if only I could travel back to the past and call everyone really dumb. I would even put my elbows on the table. I'll show them what a scandal is.

Pixie cut

A short hairstyle for women! Oh no! Whatever next? Using the wrong spoon for a dessert??? God I'd hate to live in the early 20th century. The style isn't to be confused with stabbing a pixie, crimes mainly committed by orcs, I believe. Maybe I'm making that up.

Tonsure

A silly monk's hairdo that is thankfully rarely seen nowadays. Personally I consider it more of a scandal than even the pixie cut. I worry if I keep looking at the dos I will get tonsure-itis. Only joking. I guess I was silly too.

Mohawk

More a medieval weapon than a cut. (If you use a particularly strong gel, I mean). Here's another interesting scandal for you: Taking an old man's eye out with your do.

Comb over

If you can bother combing loads of your hair over to hide your baldness, you can bother to buy a wig. Just say you've started a glam metal band, that's cool!

Curtained hair

Did you know prisons (or at least some prisons) don't turn the lights off at night? If you have curtained hair, not an issue! The dos are also useful if you fancy a quick daytime nap in the free world.

Feathered hair

A bit of a misleading name. Actually, I'm a little disappointed. This is 2022, if we can build super robots that can do incredible things, we can make people's hair look like REAL feathers. -_-

Mop-Top

I think this is the do that I have at the current time. Is this the one that's easiest to cut? I guess that means there are fewer things to go wrong. What if your curtains close when driving, for example? Then you could end up in jail. (Though naturally, you should be able to get to sleep).

Afro

I wonder if afros can act as crash helmets? Surely they must soften the blow at least a little bit?? Afros are also lighter than helmets, so if speedy bike riding is your thing, (maybe) this is the style for you. No, that CAN'T be good advice...

Beehive

There are only a few instances where bees can call humans 'posers', but they do when they see people with beehive cuts. And do you get honey from such cuts? No? Then you're impressing no one.

Blow out

I'm not completely sure what a blowout hair do is, but I assume it's hair mixed with bits of exploded tires. Ooh, stylish. -_- Surely the most dangerous style on the list.

Devilock

The exact opposite of a tonsure and just as daft looking, if not more so.

Lob

Hair you throw? Ah, it means a 'long bob'. Wait a minute. That means a long short haircut! Why not say a medium sized haircut? I guess that would be a 'mob', and I guess that would be too aggressive for most people. Problem solved by me??

Mullet

Apparently mullets are banned in North Korea because they're 'anti-social'. How can hair be antisocial? A fascinating question. Obviously intrigued, I Googled mullets and they're just long.

Perm

Straight hair made curly! According to the internet, 'Perms may be applied using thermal or chemical means'. When I hear the words 'thermal' or 'chemical' I usually think of weapons, but I really doubt even light firearms ever have anything to do with hair. Surely not. A short lived but understandable misunderstanding from me!

Ponytail

Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. Which is why the bond between hippies and ponies cannot be broken.

Quiff

Apparently two people working together invented the quiff. It's funny the way less thought has gone into thinking up the theory of relativity. I'm just saying only one person came up with that.

Spiky hair

Ah, I used to have spiky hair when I was 10. Great times, great hair.

Dreadlocks

Locks usually cause peace of mind which is interesting. Is this the only hair style that causes other people to feel dread? I don't mean to boast, but I don't feel a thing when I look at such styles. Cool as a cucumber.

Ok! There's a load of hairdos for you. What's the best one? I was expecting a lot from the beehive during my research, but like many I'm sure, I was fairly disappointed. Mops and spikes are pretty good, though. They may in fact, be the best. We've also learnt that life a while ago really was like walking on egg shells and it was a little bit stupid. I think that's it from me, so... bye!!!
