

James: Hello! With me on today's show are two potential murderers! I'm sure it will be interesting finding out which one did it...

(A phone rings)

James: A caller already?

Caller: It was me. Bye.

James: Well that was that mystery solved very quickly...

Interrogator: Don't believe him, the killer is in this room.

James: Oh. By the way, that was a request from the same interrogator from my last show...

Interrogator: Thank you for having me.

James: Personally, I can't work out which of the two suspects did it, as they both look like hardened, stone-faced criminals. Was it you, Nick? Or was it Henry? It has to be one of you... Apparently...

(A phone rings)

Caller: It was me.

James: Caller, are you stone-faced, too?

Caller: Sure am. Ciao.

James: A very complex situation. Anyway, I was thinking that as you're both stone faced, if someone ever pushed you down a hill for whatever reason, you'd be the rolling stones!

Nick: I don't get it..

Henry: Neither do I.

James: Have you heard of the band 'The Rolling Stones'?

Nick: Of course.

James: Oh never mind.

Nick: Ok.

James: And because this is my 51st show, I thought it would be appropriate to feature two aliens from Area 51!

Alien 1: Thank you for having me.

Alien 2: Likewise.

Interrogator: Forget the aliens, find out who killed Shawn!

James: Forget the aliens??? Are you out of your mind??

Alien 1: I know, right?

Interrogator: Yes, it is cool you have two aliens on your show, but a man has died.

Henry: It wasn't me. I was partying with the Dominant Egg.

James: Is that true?

Henry: 100%

James: Then you won't mind if he phones the show to confirm that? He's a loyal listener of this show...

Henry: That would be perfect.

(A phone rings)

Caller: I killed him...

James: Not you again. I've cut him off.

(A phone rings)

James: Hello?

The Dominant Egg: Charlie, here. Henry is telling the truth. I was partying with Henry at the time Shawn was killed.

Henry: See?

James: And what kind of party was it? A party involving drugs and murder?

TDE: It was a normal party.

James: No murder or drugs, then?

TDE: No murder.

James: Or drugs?

TDE: No murder. Bye.

James: Well that's that cleared up then, isn't it?

Interrogator: It was Nick, then.

Nick: For the last time, I've done nothing wrong!!

Alien 1: I hate to sound childish, but I am feeling kinda ignored, right now.

James: Of course you are. This IS a special situation, really it is, but the interrogator has to put a downer on things.

Alien 2: I was expecting this show to be a celebration...

Alien 1: Right.

Interrogator: The celebration can come after the crime has been solved.

James: What? This is my show! Oh yes, I've just remembered. Henry here is not the Dominant Egg's son Henry, it's a complete coincidence!

Henry: But I'm a person, how can my dad be an egg?

James: Well, there's the phrase 'what came first, the chicken or the egg', isn't there? No one REALLY knows where eggs come from, maybe you could be the son of the Egg!

Henry: Yep, fair point.

Alien 1: Talk about me!

James: I'm so sorry. You must have some tales to tell! What's your home planet like??

Alien 1: It's far less rude.

James: Of course. And what's the technology like?

Alien 1: Why is everyone on Earth obsessed with aliens and their technology?? Are you going to probe me or something to find out??

James: No!

Alien 1: Good! Because I don't like being probed!

Alien 2: Right!

James: All I want to know is, what's your technology like? There will be no probes. Honest.

Alien 1: No probes?

James: No probes.

Alien 1: Ok. Then it's like Earth but more colourful and everything's faster.

James: Is that all?

Alien 2: James, this isn't the warm welcome I was hoping for.

James: Fine. Is that all? Plus, I like you.

Alien 2: Oh God.

Interrogator: And what's your justice system like?

Alien 2: There isn't one as all the aliens live in harmony.

Interrogator: Wow, you must be shocked when having to deal with someone like James...

Alien 2: Yes, I am surprised people just put up with him.

James: People put up with me? You have no idea!

Alien 1: Oh.

James: Do you have pizza in your home planet?

Alien 1: Why do you ask?

James: It's just that some people on Earth like pizza so much, they'd kill for one. Isn't that right Nick?

Nick: No...

James: Ok, how about Henry?

Henry: Definitely not.

Interrogator: James, do you think you can do my job for yourself?

James: Eh?

Interrogator: ... by tricking Nick and Henry into confessing?

James: Eh?

Interrogator: You weren't trying to trick them?

James: No...

Interrogator: Would YOU kill for a pizza?

James: Depends how hungry I was...

Interrogator: Did YOU kill Shawn?

James: What? No!

Interrogator: What about to steal his pizza?

James: Anyway, what's the best thing about your home planet, guys?

Alien 1: Hmmm... that's a tough one...

James: The pizza?

Interrogator: Oh God, here we go.

Alien 1: There is good pizza to be fair.

James: Cheesy crust?

Alien 1: Cheesy crust? The base is filled with cheese, too...

Interrogator: I've never seen a man this excited, before... Well I have, but it was after a meth binge.

James: No way, the BASE is filled with cheese? Cheese in the base, and cheese on top of that??

Alien 2: All the cheese you can imagine.

James: No...

Alien 2: It's true.

James: Can I go to your home?

Alien 2: Absolutely not.

James: Please!

Alien 2: No!

Interrogator: James, there are bigger issues. Also, how depressing is it for you when you realise cheese, tomato and bread is the best you can ever hope for?

James: Yes, but things are much better when COMBINED. It's like the Holy Trinity, the egg will know what that means.

Interrogator: What's it mean?

James: It's a drugs reference.

Interrogator: Ok. I know... Whoever confesses to the murder gets a free pizza!

James: It was me!

Interrogator: Was it really you, or did you just want the pizza? And stop hyperventilating, you're WAY too excited!

James: Fine, I didn't do it, but I did confess, didn't I? Therefore I'm owed a pizza.

Interrogator: Ok, whoever ever confesses to the crime AND actually did do the crime gets a pizza!

James: It was me!

(Heavy breathing sounds are heard).

Interrogator: Was it really you, or are you just hungry?

James: Just give me a pizza, please! I'm not welcome in the alien's planet!

Interrogator: There are more important things to worry about!

James: No there aren't!

Alien 1: I want to go back to Area 51 and get probed, again!

Interrogator: Me too.

James: Well, the show is coming to an end, so would you like to claim your innocence again, Nick and Henry? I must warn you that if you do, you will go hungry.

Nick: I've done nothing!

Henry: Me, too!

James: And would another caller like to phone this show? I'm sure I can get the aliens here to bake you a pizza with cheese in the base and on top of it, if that's what you want... I really do!!

(There is silence)

James: Really? No callers? Not looking good is it? It seems the killer will never be found...

Interrogator: Oh I'll find the person.

James: Oh good. And on that reassuring note... bye listeners!