

James: Hello, and welcome to another episode of Radio James! To start things off on a light note, here's a funny story: I thought if you eat lots of food you will have a greater gravitational pull! I've been informed I was told that so I'd eat more food from a restaurant. Well... I suppose I've been tricked. And even if I did end up pulling other people towards me, they may be attracted to me in the literal sense, but psychologically it would probably just cause annoyance. Now let's not speak of that again.

(A phone rings)

James: Oh, I have a caller already...

Caller: Hello, James. You may have been told you were tricked, but that in itself was a trick. You actually WILL attract people to you literally AND psychologically if you put on lots of weight. So how about you visit my restaurant again? But you need to eat a LOT more. Sound good?

James: Wow, I don't know WHAT to believe...

Caller: Believe in me and my expensive but extremely good value curries!

James: Ok, maybe I will...

Caller: Great! Oh no, I'm being pulled in your general direction now and am about to trip over! Argh!!! Gotta go!

James: If I'm attracting you already, maybe I don't need to visit your restaurant?

Caller: No, that's not how it works at all! You need to eat more for obvious reasons, arggggh! Gotta go!

James: I'm not making everyone fall over am I? If so, please give me a call! Or rather a call after I eat some snacks...

(Munching noises are heard).

(A phone rings)

Caller 2: Hello, James? Ow I've fallen over! James, please stop!

James: Oh no! I thought the pack of biscuits would make no real difference! I thought they were a treat!

Caller 2: Bin the biscuits, throw them out the window, I don't care, just don't eat them!

James: Ok, ok!

Caller 2 (very quietly): Ha, what an idiot!

James: What was that?

Caller 2: What was what?

James: You just called me an idiot, I heard you...

Caller 2: No I was calling myself an idiot. For falling over.

James: You fell over, called yourself an idiot and then laughed?

Caller 2: Yes, that's true.

James: Why?

Caller 2: Some things in life are just a mystery. What caused the big bang? What happens to things when they go into black holes? Why did I just fall over laugh and call myself an idiot? Who knows??

James: Don't people see rude drawings when they go into black holes?

Caller 2: I'm sorry?

James: Oh never mind. Hang on... You're Dan, aren't you?

Caller 2: No, bye.

James: I'm not making EVERYONE fall over, am I? Or is just the curry house owner and some guy who sounds and acts exactly like Dan but apparently isn't Dan?

(A phone rings)

Caller 3: Hello, James? I just wanted to say... Ow, (expletive)!

James: Ok, I've gone too far. I just want one more biscuit and maybe a curry and that'll have to do.

(A phone rings)

Caller: No! You must eat as much as possible! You know when I said I fell over? I'm all fine now! Yes, I'm STARTING to get more attracted to you, but only mentally, same goes for everyone good day! I don't know why, so please, no more follow up questions! Bye!

James: Ok, and here's a word from my sponsor!

Advert: Hello, this is Ali from Ali's Gravity Curries! Worried your girlfriend has gone off you, because she doesn't mention bombing ice cream factories anymore? Well win her back and attract her by eating as much curry as possible from Ali, increasing you gravitational pull by at least one trillion.

James: Is it just me, or was that advert directed at only me?

(A phone rings)

Caller: I don't think I can make a lot of money from you.

James: Well that was weird...

Caller: What was?

James: Starting a conversation like that...

Caller: Well we spoke before, so...

James: So I don't get at least a hello?

Caller: No need. But hello, anyway.

James: Do you have a degree in physics?

Caller: Errr... No.

James: A level?

Caller: Nope.

James: GCSE?

Caller: Yes!

James: Oh good. If you're such a physics whizz, would you like to explain how I'm the only one making other people fall over?

Caller: Do YOU have a physics education?

James: No...

Caller: Oh good. You see, weight and mass are two different things. There is actually a third kind of mass called 'James Ziegler mass' and that kind of mass has very different properties than weight and regular mass, explaining why it's only you who was dragging people towards you. If you want me to explain why that's suddenly stopped happening? Well, you'd need a doctorate to understand. I don't understand, either. Because I only have a GCSE.

James: I don't remember that being taught in my school...

Caller: I went to a different school.

James: Don't the same things get taught in different schools?

Caller: Well, clearly not.

James: Ok. I have to say I'm feeling conflicted. I mean, I do feel special because there is kind of unique mass that is named after me, but I also feel a bit... annoying.

Caller: Forget about that. Look, Janine hates you, she told me. The only way you're getting back with her is if you put on at least 30 stone. Sorry.

James: But she said she'll meet me again if I got my act together and sent a letter of apology to the local ice cream factory...

Caller: James, Janine is a liar. She has a Greek surname, right?

James: Yes?

Caller: Ever heard of the Trojan horse?

James: Yes...

Caller: A classic Greek trick. I want to be as clear as possible: Greek people are shifty. Always have been, always will be. The only chance you have of getting her respect is if you act as a magnet. She won't have a clue what's going on, and THAT'S how you earn her approval.

James: I don't understand what that means...

Caller: Greek people like it when they feel tricked, it's beating them at their own game.

James: Wow, if there are any Greek people listening, I can't apologise enough...

Caller: Yeah? And when they say they forgive you, they send you a huge wooden horse and then invade you when you're sleeping.

James: I'm sorry, I can't continue this show anymore. Bye.
