

Hello, THIS time I'd like to apologise to Elon Musk for suggesting he is an evil genius. If he was evil, he'd be doing evil things such as deliberately and massively contributing to global warming for example. Apparently pretty much everyone warms up the planet just a tiny bit, but as long as you don't do it on purpose that's not TOO bad. As long as you don't buy fuel from a petrol station, and when you get home you siphon the petrol out and burn it I mean. It's a spiteful thing to do and I find the thought of Elon doing that bizarre. If he was bad, he certainly wouldn't be helping people like me share jokes on Twitter or X, that's completely harmless. And even if I spread a joke that was offensive, the very thought I could blame Elon is ludicrous, isn't it? What kind of person would that make me? I also got somewhat bigheaded and said the reason Twitter has lost lots of users is because of its renaming to what I called the sinister X. I thought that was a totally valid thing to say at the time, clever even, but on deeper reflection that was no more than an assumption. Of course I needed to do lots of research to find out why X was failing and to be honest... na. I haven't done any true research since university, and whilst I got better marks for that than my actual music, I just didn't enjoy it.

I Googled if Elon Musk is evil and you will be relieved to find out the main article that came up was 'What is Elon Musk's IQ?' He apparently has the super high IQ of 155, but the search engine says a guy called Adragon De Mello has an IQ of 400! What's even more interesting than that is he looks quite a lot like Pewdiepie. Does that mean Pewdiepie has an IQ of 400? If so, stop making silly videos and fully work out what pi is so I can finally find out what it REALLY means through my patented number system. You never know, maybe the number will come to a stop one day. Infinity is a hard concept to grasp and you know what? I don't believe it. However, things aren't quite perfect for Elon, as there is actually an article calling him evil. But I wouldn't worry about it, that's just the internet for you. Lots of rubbish. :(I wonder what my IQ is. I've done an IQ test online and was told it was around 125. However, when I had schizophrenia in school my IQ was apparently 75! Sure I didn't take all of the test, I got bored but I certainly did a large chunk of it. Around ten years ago, I took a very easy 5 question or so test on Facebook and it said my IQ was 180!!! Doesn't that sound ridiculous to you? It does to me. I never knew working out basic sequences made me a super genius, but there you have it, proof I'm smarter than Einstein. What's even more surprising is the fact that since leaving secondary school, I'm not 100% sure I can remember how to those charts where you add two numbers together.

Anyway, Elon. Apparently he's the second richest person in the world. The internet says Bernard Arnault is the richest, but not only have I not heard of him, I haven't heard of his company LVMH, and spellchecker doesn't recognise his surname! He sounds like a mysterious supervillain who hides in the background to me. Oh no. Time for another apology. Sorry Bernard. However, if he ever tried to sue me, that would make him an exceptionally greedy person who really doesn't deserve an apology. But he's not. I actually empathise with him as spellchecker doesn't recognise my surname either. It really is a pain that never ends. Maybe I could get therapy, maybe I could finally find acceptance and move to Germany. But just for the sake of a better spellchecker over there? That's a bit crazy, so maybe therapy is more important for me. The moving would suggest I handle life very badly. Moving on, Warren Buffett is very rich too. As he's so rich, I'm sure he can afford any all you can eat Buffett! Warren 'All you can eat buffet' Buffett. I wonder what my nickname could be... Simon 'the man' Wiedemann! Me suggesting my nickname should be 'we da man' doesn't make sense as it's a plural and I'm only one person, but I did actually say that in school. It should be noted my IQ was a lot lower at the time. And apology over, bye!