

In this random word monologue, I will be doing something a little bit different by ranking words in order of festiveness, instead of preference. 20 of them, too! Don't get too excited however, I will be going through the following quickly because I am in very much need of a break. Not to worry though, as Christmas is a break obviously, now let's go!

20th: Myth

Santa is not a myth!!! Imagine if he was, then there would be no Christmas at all!

19th: Ivory

Who kills elephants on Christmas? That has to be one of the most inappropriate things possible. Buy something for elephants, maybe? Maybe an apple?? I'll say it again, this time of year is for giving, NOT killing. Never kill elephants in fact, even if it's charging at you. Maybe try to reason with it, at least today?

18th: Avant-garde

Avant-garde music is the last thing you want to hear on Christmas. Though I did once buy myself a Blotted Science CD as a present. It just didn't make me feel Christmassy, that's all. Still good though, even though it makes me both depressed and anxious. I actually phoned my sibling the other day to ask what to buy him, and he asked me what I wanted. I said 'nothing too weird', further showing my dislike of avant-garde Christmases.

17th: Evaluate

Who evaluates on Christmas? Take a day off! Evaluate how much fun you're having if you're autistic or whatever, but don't evaluate the world economy, today. Live a little.

16th: Accountant

Similar to evaluate, but I'm not saying accountants shouldn't exist on Christmas day. Lots of people would needlessly die. Sensible people, too. The world needs more of you.

15th: Technique

This is similar to evaluate; hone your technique on any other day than Christmas. Unless you've got a guitar as a present, maybe. If you don't hone your technique then, it could point to a massive lack of interest, making your parents mad.

14th: Wave

Now is not the time to go to the beach.

13th: Reverse

I'm not sure how reversing relates to Christmas, so let's get help with A.I. Nope, it can't help me. No, no, I'm probably going on a Christmas ramble, I will be driving to the park and first off, I'll need to reverse out of my driveway. So there you go.

12th: Perfume

I bought my brother aftershave last Christmas at very least. Not perfume, but not a million miles away, either.

11th: Depart

Depart on a journey to your family's house so you can have a massive party? Sure, but why go in reverse? Well, it's all been explained.

10th: Spirit

Spirits may taste nice, but they just don't make me feel any better. Now that I've got a new computer that doesn't go mental on me when I update it every month or so, my mood is a lot calmer anyway! These last few months really have been a holiday.

9th: Maid

Ooh a servant on Christmas! I'm not sure what I'll need help with, though. Updating my computer? No, not a problem...

8th: Chew

Usually eating is something I look forward to, but in the magic of Christmas there are things even better! Also, turkey and gravy may sound at least relatively exotic, but to me it just tastes of chicken. Thankfully I love chicken!

7th: Lamp

Lamps are nice! You get fairly lights obviously, but can you get fairy lamps? Google says yes! In that case, let's boost this word's ranking a little, I was going to put it before Chew...

6th: Outlook

A great festive outlook! Outlook is also the name of an email service and I mostly get spam. However, that's not enough to spoil my excellent positivity!

5th: Quota

'A fixed share of something that a person or group is entitled to receive'? What, like a gift? That's festive! If children don't get what they want, is that like a misdemeanour? Hm. If so, great!

4th: Junior

Juniors love Christmas! Not as much as me though. Well, probably not, I'll probably just be walking and watching the 2nd Spinal Tap film. Still good, though.

3rd: Finance

What Christmas would you have without finance? The very best you'll get is a stolen bag of crisps. :(Don't know what I mean? Read on...

2nd: Approach

Picture a child (or more likely me) approaching Santa! Woohoo! What have you got for me? Have I been a good boy? Sure! Please take my word for that, though. There are some things I've posted on my website that could suggest otherwise. Dishonesty, greed and technically there was even one incident of petty theft, when I kept a bag of crisps after finding out credit cards weren't accepted in a London pub. Whoops. To be fair though, I did only realise I could have simply handed the food back much later on. Anyway, maximum respect to Santa.

1st: Bishop

Who's better, Santa or a bishop? For the sake of not offending people, let's make the bishop win. At the same time I know nothing about bishops (other than they probably don't walk in reverse) so let's quickly end things here on this super merry Christmas! Bye!
