

Sadly punks aren't often known for their intellect because of GG Allin, who I'll certainly be mentioning a lot in this music personality test I call 'How Punk Are You?' He is often on my mind, because he causes me a certain amount of disbelief. Blink 182's lyrics are immature to put it mildly, but at least they have a good and fast drummer, right? It's like saying 'Yes, I do do stupid things, but at least I do them fast.' To a normal person, that makes things worse if anything. Anywho, If you do turn out to be super punk, you can share your results with either friends or psychotherapists or both. Be warned, my questions are worded very carefully. You may think they are completely harmless, but they actually reveal quite a lot about you. When you complete this test, you score badly and I call you an asshole you may feel cheated, but at very least your score will be honest. If you score 5 on ANY of the questions, please don't perform. You're too 'intense'. (You're an idiot). Let's go! :)

Scores:

-1: Get away from me, hippie. :(

0: Phew! You're sane!! I'll go even further, you're wonderful!

1-19: You're actually not that bad a guy in many ways! There are definite flaws potentially, though.

20 - 24 Things are getting a little wilder... You're very punk. Maybe even too punk.

25-54: You're mentally sick, but not necessarily delusional which IS something. Just not a lot.

55-62: You're very punk, well done. Except it's not well done, is it? Even animals are better behaved than you. Ever seen a squirrel do the stuff you do? Sort yourself out. What gets to me is the fact you think you're some kind of deity figure!!

63: You really ride a tricycle? Whilst you should be admired for not caring what people think, you do realise you should be in a supermax prison? Your behaviour is truly unbelievable.
