

I've written about my version of the OCEAN personality test, now I'll do my version of the Myers Briggs test. Whoops, after a few minutes I had to abandon it, as it's basically the same as the former typing system. That was a bit dumb, so now I'll write about my own version of the Enneagram typing system. The thing is, I only really know about my type. You think that's self-interest? It is! I'm a type 5 and I'm an INFP, too. :O I think that happens one in every 20 times for INFPs. Pretty neat. THAT'S narcissism for you. Not super rare, but enough so for me to feel special. Even though I'm not so knowledgeable of the other types, I will be pretending I am which again points to narcissism. I will be writing 18 statements in a random order and make you choose what one sums you up the most. In the end, I'll tell you what your selection means and what type YOU are! Some of my comments may seem offensive, but you should see the one that relates to me! My word. Funny stuff. Let's go!

1: I want to be the best, but I'm far from being the best, so I may have to kill some of my rivals, if not all of them.

2: I love everything even though I'm not completely wasted!

3: I'm a loyal person with loads of friends! I am described as a 'Defender' bringing to mind knights in armour with badass weapons and lethal skills.

4: I'm extremely depressed and feel like everything is falling apart. Still though, wouldn't it be nice to be different? Maybe that would cheer me up a bit!

5: I want everyone to love me, so I'm super nice to people! I make people cakes and they're most likely damn good! (I wouldn't know as none of them are for me).

6: I want to love everything, but can't so I get completely wasted.

7. I'm a good person and wise, too! Rather like a cross between a fruit smoothie (good and wise) and a hot chocolate! (Nice and 'friendly' tasting). I want to be a positive influence on people, I also have an idea for a great drink!

8. I'm a super brave person who people respect AND don't fear!

9: I'm an ultra friendly person who is chilled out, too. A simple hug from me can make a warmonger see the error of his ways, apologise and even shed a tear or two. Please get hugging the person below ASAP.

10: I'm a super brave person, but I'm a murderer too.

11. I'm right and everyone else is wrong! I'm angry too and I might hit you. I'm still a nice person though. Right?

12: I'm a geeky person who does geeky things. And I'm luv'in' it.

13: I want to be the best, and I'm a great guy, too! I sound narcissistic, but I'm not! Wowiee!

14: I'm a nuts schizophrenic with schizotypal personality disorder! You can still claim to be geeky, but your interests are likely to centre around other mental people, only putting people off you more. :(

15: No one is loyal to you, so you'll lash out at them? I'm sure that will make everything ok.

16: I want everyone to love me, but people are horrible to me so I'm going to be horrible too. In a WAY, you're not so different to Charles Manson. :(He felt victimised as well, but did he want people to love him though? Not so sure. Probably not actually.

17: I'm not exactly peaceful although I do want to be. I'm very lethargic and depressed. I guess that's a kind of peace in a way? That's something?

18: I'm super artistic and individual. I'm not sure what I'd do in a battle though. Maybe draw flowers to remind soldiers of happier times?

Right! A bit of a short monologue, but again I didn't really know what I was talking about. A lesser person would avoid the subject altogether. No wait, I have another idea, I'm going to rename the personality types and improve them, here goes!
